Registrations for this year's International Volunteer Cooperation Organisations' conference (IVCO2020) are now open!

Due to travel restrictions, IVCO2020 will be held virtually, focusing on the theme Volunteering for Climate Action.

Climate change is the greatest threat to our planet and people, yet only 3 per cent of global international volunteering supports environmental sustainability.

AT IVCO2020, WE'LL DISCUSS THE IMPORTANCE OF STEPPING UP AND WORKING TOGETHER.

- explore our interactive convention centre;
- attend the launch of the first global report on volunteering for climate action;
- hear from notable keynote speakers;
- take part in a range of workshops, and
- enjoy a series of online networking opportunities.

This year's conference is proudly hosted by Australian Volunteers International (AVI) and the International Forum for Volunteering in Development (Forum). We can't wait to see you there!
